HYSTERIA RUN RIOT.

William Barnes, Jr., Issued Statement
Last Night.

New York, Sept. 3.—Before leaving for his summer home at Nantucket last night, William Barnes, Jr., Republican state committeeman and leader of Albany county, issued a statement in which he declared that "hysteria has run riot throughout this country," and that the question to be decided at the coming Republican state convention at Saratoga is "whether the Republican party will fight the disease or succumb to the interests of politicians seeking office or temporary acclaim."

The character of the recent addresses of Theodore Roosevelt in the West, Mr. Barnes says, "has startled all thoughtful men and impressed them with the frightful danger which lies in the political ascendancy." As a member of the state committee, Mr. Barnes says, he proposed the name of Vice President Sherman for temporary chairman of the state convention without consultation with President Taft or Colonel Roosevelt. When he had talked with Mr. Roosevelt after the meeting and had learned what his attitude towards "public matters" was at that time, Mr. Barnes says he told him that he never could have voted for him.

Timothy L. Woodruff, the state chairman, who was at state headquarters when Mr. Barnes gave out his statement, said he subscribed to all the Albany leader had said.

Mr. Barnes said earlier in the day that he did not think Vice President Sherman would withdraw as a candidate for the chairmanship, adding that it would be foolish of him if he did.

PLUMLEY TAKES ISSUE
CONGRESSMAN FOSSVermont Congressman Answered the Massachusetts Man at a Rally Held in Burlington Last Night.

Burlington, Sept. 3.—At a Republican rally in the city hall last night, Congressman Frank Plumley took issue with Congressman Foss of Massachusetts, who had spoken in this city earlier in the week. After reviewing Congressman Foss' many connections with corporations he declared that Mr. Foss did not leave the Republican party because of the tariff, but because of a particular dutiable article, coal. In his speech in this city, said Mr. Plumley, Mr. Foss did not do one particular item of any schedule of a great and noble thing and has by force of circumstance, to compromise on something that is a little less great, that is not failure. The tariff must be equalized all over the country, and it was reduced as low as it could be at that time and still safeguard interests of all.

Mr. Plumley said that there was a decided lack of logic in Mr. Foss' statements when he said that free food products would help the farmer. If, as he admitted, the country is exporting food, then the price is fixed by the markets abroad. What, then, is the need of any change? In fact the tariff is helping the farmer because he is the producer of food and the ultimate consumer of the products of the manufacturer.

"Congressman Foss said here that the tariff bill was proposed for by the Republicans, but that it is not true. President Taft cannot be taken as an apology. Because a man starts out to do a great and noble thing and has by force of circumstance, to compromise on something that is a little less great, that is not failure. The tariff must be equalized all over the country, and it was reduced as low as it could be at that time and still safeguard interests of all."

"There was a reason for every step in the tariff revision. Nearly all iron and steel was reduced by the tariff of 1906, as against the Dingley tariff. The duty on bituminous coal was reduced from 45 cents to 15 cents, that on iron ore from 40 to 15 cents, on pig iron from $4 to $2.50, on wrought iron from $4 to $1, all per ton."

"The duty on structural steel, it is true, was not reduced but raised. It was found at the time the tariff was revised that San Francisco was being rebuilt with steel manufactured in Germany, as also was the Singer building in New York City. The Germans could, under the old tariff, produce structural steel in this country cheaper than the mills at Pittsburgh could make it. Did that furnish work for American workmen?"

"The duty on manufactured cotton stockings was raised because they were being imported into this country from abroad while the woolen stockings were made. Of the 2,000 items in the Dingley tariff 654 were decreased by the Payne bill, 200 were increased and about 1,000 remained unchanged. Is this revision downward or upward?"

GIVEN A QUIET DAY.

Roosevelt Had Asked for It of Omaha
People.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 3.—The people of Omaha, Nebraska, gave Theodore Roosevelt a day of comparative rest yesterday. All that he did was to attend a breakfast given by the Roosevelt reception committee, a luncheon at the Field club, a dinner at the Omaha club, an entertainment given by the board of governors of the Ak-Sar-Ben, which is the official boomers' club of Omaha, take an automobile ride, make three speeches and talk with numerous political leaders and old friends whom he met here.

Several other things had been planned, but a telegram was sent from Kansas City Thursday night saying that Col. Roosevelt needed a day of rest, so the program was shortened and the projected parade called off.

St. Johnsbury, Sept. 3.—Asad Kourie, a Syrian, who has assumed the Americanized name of Isaac Corey, is in jail here, charged with kidnapping. About 14 years ago Kourie lived in Barre with his wife and one child. Kourie deserted his family. His wife, unable to support the family, gave the baby to Frank Simons of Stannard.

Three years ago Kourie asked for a writ of habeas corpus to gain possession of the child. It was refused by the court and Kourie was not seen again until he appeared in an automobile at the schoolhouse where his daughter was attending school. He seized her, forced her into the automobile and hurried to his home in Berlin, N. H. An adopted brother, who attempted to prevent the seizure of the girl, was struck and an additional charge of assault is made against Kourie.

State's Attorney Simonds and Sheriff Winch of this county went to Berlin and secured Kourie and brought him here Thursday night. He was given a hearing and is held under $1,000 bail for the grand jury.

HUGE CROWD ATTENDED

Closing Day of the Middlebury Fair Yesterday. A Woman Killed.

Middlebury, Sept. 3.—A crowd estimated at from 15,000 to 20,000 saw the long race program yesterday, the final day of the Addison county fair. Among them were several hundred school children, who were admitted free, and the full complement of the state Indian school at Vergennes.

A serious accident occurred as the crowd was leaving the ground. Mrs. S. G. Story of Burlington, a bride of two weeks, was kicked in the abdomen by an unruly stallion and rendered unconscious. She was hurried to the home of her husband, Charles Miller, where medical assistance was rendered. Although her recovery is expected, she suffers great pain.

The grand cavalcade of live stock was held at noon and it made a line more than a half mile long. A game of baseball in the afternoon between Vergennes and Middlebury resulted in a score of 5 to 4 in favor of the latter. Governor Proctor, who was expected to be present, was unavoidably detained.

Miss Overlook took the 2:18 pace, with Halsemer second and Joe Tranny third. The 2:25 pace went to Vir. a Malone, N. Y. horse, with Young Gellish second and Mary Mack third. L. N. Chase's The Princess romped away with the 2:24 stake trot in straight heats, while Legal Andrews got the rubbery stake. In the 2:14 stake, Bert Nethurst, after finishing fifth in the first heat, took the next three. Jay Kay almost repeated Bert Nethurst's performance in the 2:24, finishing fourth in the first heat and then a true time winner. Jones S. won the 2:29 stake. Gallagher, a Boston horse, was the winner of the free-for-all, the best time being 2:11 1/4. Vesta Boy was second and Edward E. third.

MORGANS TO RACE.

Special Prizes for Morgans to Run and Race at Vermont State Fair.

Much has been written regarding the Morgan horse exhibit to be made at the Vermont state fair at White River Junction, Sept. 20, 21, 22 and 23, but two special prizes have escaped notice up to this time.

One of these is a half mile running race for Morgans, open only for horses entered in the Morgan class either special or regular, for $25 to the first; $10 to second and $10 to third. It is not generally known that a typical Morgan can run with great speed, but much is promised of interest in this race and some of the best Morgans in the big exhibition are expected to show remarkable speed.

The other special prize is a sweepstakes driving race without whip. Max-well Everts, chairman of the state fair commission, offers to back the Morgan mare, Doty Dimples, for $100 in a driving race for 15 miles without whip and without goading or striking the horse in any manner, in a four-wheeled vehicle at even weights. This race is open to any stallion, mare or gelding upon the deposit of $100 for each horse entered, the entire purse to the winner.

The Morgan horse exhibit will be the largest ever made in this country.

WILL BE A DAY
OF FEATURESCentral Labor Union Complete Labor Day Preparations

NOTED LABOR MAN COMING

James Duncan, Secretary of Granite Cutters' International Association and Vice President of the American Federation of Labor.

Preparations have been made for the largest celebration on Labor day that has ever been known in Barre. The Central Labor union has had committees working for the past month or two, with the result that they expect to have the largest crowd and give the most for the money expended. The celebration will be held in the Granite City trotting park and electric cars will attend to the traffic between the park and Montpelier. A special train will be run from the mill, leaving East Barre at 9:40 a. m. and stopping at the grounds. Returning in the evening, it will leave the grounds at 7 p. m.

There will be a baseball game between the Barre Athletic club and Barre Independents at 10 a. m. The usual games will then be carried through, hop, step and jump, running, high jump, boys' race, broad jump, girls' race, 100-yard dash, half-mile race. First, second and third prizes will be given for each event.

At 1:30 p. m., James Duncan, secretary-treasurer of the Granite Cutters' association and first vice president of the American Federation of Labor, will give an address. Mr. Duncan is so well known to the public of this vicinity that he needs no introduction, and those who have never seen or heard him will not doubt take advantage of the opportunity, as he is well known and highly respected among the employers, as well as among the working men of the country.

After the address there will be something new in the way of horse racing, the race being confined to union men and horses that have never had a race record, nothing lighter than an ordinary roadster to be allowed. The races will no doubt be amusing, as well as good trotting. The well-known horse-racer, Harry McNeil, is to act as starter. After the race, there will be another baseball game between the Barre Athletic club and the Independents, both teams being determined to carry off the game. A fast game may be expected.

Refreshments of all kinds can be procured at the grounds at reasonable prices. The Barre Club's band will be in attendance, and everyone knows that the treat the land is capable of giving to the music-loving people of Barre is really worth the price of admission alone. Over $200 will be paid out for prize money, aside from the other expenses, and when the list of games and other means of amusement for the public is considered, and the small admission fee for the whole day's free, there can be no doubt that something will be doing all the time in the trotting park Labor day.

There will also be a dance in the evening in the new Howard hall, the best hall in the state. Riley's popular orchestra in attendance. Dancing from 8 p. m. to 1 a. m. Gents 50c, ladies 10c.

JOHN SENTER STIRRED 'EM UP.

Gave Characteristic Stump Speech at St.
Johnsbury Last Night.

St. Johnsbury, Sept. 3.—Local Democrats enjoyed a rare treat last evening, when after the Harmony band of 14 pieces had charmed a goodly gathering at the opera house, then heard the political issues discussed. It was advertised that Harland B. Howe of St. Johnsbury and John H. Senter of Montpelier would speak. Hon. Eliza May, in opening the meeting, announced that Mr. Howe was not able to be present. This threw the burden upon the shoulders of Mr. Senter. Mr. May in introducing the speaker made some sparkling allusions to the speaker and incidentally took a full out of the Republican party. He spoke in high praise of Mr. Flood and the methods of his recent canvass. He also paid unstinted tribute to W. J. Bigelow, editor of The Caledonian, for the fearlessness of his editorials with regard to the expenditure in conducting political campaigns.

Mr. Senter took for his text: "Civic Righteousness." He said, in part: "But there were no practical differences in the two parties to-day as they spoke from their platforms. In one of his more generous moments he paid high tribute to ex-Gov. Proctor, the present board of public service commissioner and our late lamented Judge Ross. In another moment he said that the Republican party, instead of using their forefathers as guide posts, were using them as hitch-posts."

Waving a dollar bill in the faces of his hearers he declared that the Republican leaders of this campaign had grasped that same emblem and flaunted it before the public with the words: "In hoc signo vinces" (by this sign we conquer). He said that if the people of the United States followed out the same principles as the Republicans, Rockefeller would be the president of the United States. He lured the Vermont Senate as the "death-bed of all good legislation."

Devoting the remainder of his time mainly to the discussion of the newspapers of the state, who had the courage of their convictions, he said that the signs of the times were hopeful after all. His speech was one hour in length and as it is ten o'clock of play: "There was not a dull moment."

NO PAPER MONDAY.

Monday being a legal holiday, Labor day, there will be no issue of The Times. Tuesday's issue will contain full accounts of the day's doings.

HEAVY FINES IMPOSED
IN MONTPELIER CASES$25 and Costs for Frank Baldwin and Lloyd Hill as Result of a FracasLast Night in Which Two Men Were Hurt.

A heavy dose of justice was handed out in Montpelier city court today to Frank Baldwin for participation in a fracas at a row on Main street last night and also upon Lloyd Hill, a young bank clerk, who protested against the arrest of Baldwin. Each was fined $25, with costs of $4.15. Frank Anderson, who was attacked by Baldwin, is well today from the loss of blood. Oscar Johnson, who lives in the Taplin block, is said to be suffering from the fracture of two ribs. Anderson's hurts were sustained by being thrown through a window.

After Baldwin was placed in jail, Hill protested against the act, whereupon Deputy Lawson told him to keep quiet. Hill then replied that it was his right to speak his mind, and he was run in by the deputy.

Baldwin was crazed with drink when he started on a rampage last night, being incensed also by the gibes of his friends on the street. Upon reaching Hill's lunch cart, some of his friends succeeded in getting him behind it. On account of his loud talk, Anderson asked him to keep quiet, with the result that Baldwin attacked him. Anderson was made unconscious.

When he recovered consciousness, he was in the office of Dr. W. R. Harkness, where several stitches had to be taken to close the cuts on his head, which the physicians called one of the severest they had dealt with for a long time. Anderson lost a large quantity of blood from the wound and was unable for several minutes after recovering consciousness to tell where he lived.

Baldwin is a Montpelier young man, who has many friends, and has always borne an excellent reputation. He is a stonecutter by trade and a good worker.

PULLED INTO RIVER

Two-Horse Team and Dumpcart On Brooklyn Street Last Evening.

An accident of a peculiar nature occurred on Brooklyn street yesterday afternoon about five o'clock, when a two-horse team with a load of dirt from the river bed evacuation was precipitated into the water. The animals belong to Fred Slayton, and were driven by John Pedro. The driver had loaded his wagon with dirt, and was backing his horses down to a point near the river. A large quantity of dirt had already been emptied on the bank, and it was Pedro's purpose to unload his wagon as near the river as possible. When the order to back was given, the animals went back too far, and the wagon and horses were pushed into the water.

At first it was thought that both of the animals were seriously injured, but investigation showed that beyond a few bruises on one of them, and a somewhat lacerated harness, no damage had been done. The horses were released from the wagon, and pulled to the top of the bank with the aid of a tackle set. When they were unhitched, the dump-wagon slid into the water which is about eight feet deep in this spot. With the aid of the tackle blocks it was removed and found to be undamaged. The driver escaped without injury, as he jumped as soon as it became evident that nothing could stop the animals from going over the bank. It was a fortunate occurrence of what easily might have been a serious accident.
